MEMBERS ONLY

CREW-LA invites you to tour the Getty Center LA

Curator of Architectural Collections, Wim de Wit, will provide a tour on “Lessons from Bernard Rodofsky” at 11:00 am. The exhibit highlights the pioneering work of the well-known architect, artists, exhibition curator and designer. It spans his entire career, including the early years of European modernism, his world travels, and his influence as a curator and writer on international discourse on architecture, fashion, and design. Cost for tour will be $10.00. Members will be on their own if they desire lunch following the tour. Weather permitting, there will be tables reserved at the out door café where we can gather.

Date:	Thursday, May 22, 2008
