CREW is a national group that is committed to providing support and networking opportunities to its members. Our members of the Los Angeles chapter of CREW -- mostly women and some men -- come from all fields of commercial real estate, including brokers, title company executives, finance executives, appraisers, architects, construction managers, developers and lawyers. We sponsor events and social gatherings regularly so that our members can seek opportunities to work with each other on "deals", become friends and support each other in the advancement of our careers.
