

In his column “Everything is relative in 2010” California Real Estate Journal editor, Michael Gottlieb, highlights the CREW-LA January program “Policy and Fundamentals: How real is the rally?” presented by Chris Thornburg, Ph.D. Published January 19, 2010, the article reviewed comments made by Mr. Thornburg and other economists regarding the state of the economy and how long the recession will last. Mr. Gottlieb suggests that commercial real estate professionals be patient in forecasting for the following year and to trust gut reactions when considering opportunities. Mr. Gottlieb is also a 2010 CREW-LA Advisory Board member.
